GCC market performance - Jan'11

Market review:

The GCC markets had mixed performance during January. For the month the KSE was -1.38%, Saudi -3.97%, Dubai -5.90%, Abu Dhabi -4.89%, Oman +1.24%, Qatar +0.73%, and Bahrain +1.16%.

The markets began 2011 on a positive note with most Indies moving upwards. However the turmoil in Tunisia and the violence in Egypt dragged down the gains of the GCC markets. Saudi in particular was severely affected by the Egypt problems. This for us appears to be a panic reaction and we anticipate the markets to recover significantly as the GCC in general is relatively different then the other Arab counties witnessing resistance. In fact the current downturn has given potential to pick several stocks after stocks at a discount.

Fund review:

The Al-Ahli Gulf Fund recorded a small loss of -2.576% MTD and YTD. The S&P GCC Composite Price Index was -2.63% MTD and YTD mainly due to the Saudi weight factor of the index. The Gulf Funds gain since inception stood at +76.578%, the NAV of the fund was KD 0.900784 on the NAV date.

The fund manager shall continue to take into account the volatility of the region as a whole in deciding the asset mix and cash percentages this approach in turn has and will continue to reflect on the Fund's overall future performance. The current GCC allocations remain stable with a selective allocation of Blue Chip stocks across the region. The fund holdings are constantly monitored for the various risk factors by our investment team and appropriate action to rebalance the country allocation, cash percentages, as well as sector allocations is taken when needed.
