GCC market performance - Mar'14

Market review:

Five of the seven GCC indices ended March in the red. Oman's MSM (down 3.61%) lost the most, while UAE's DFM (up 5.46%) was the biggest gainer.

Fitch Ratings upgraded Saudi Arabia's long-term foreign and local currency IDR to 'AA' from 'AA-'; the ratings carried a stable outlook. Moreover, the country ceiling has been upgraded to 'AA+' from 'AA', and the short-term foreign currency IDR has been affirmed at 'F1+'. The ratings reflect the government's strong balance sheet; authorities continued with efforts to reduce unemployment and provide affordable housing. Saudi Arabian Monetary Agency (SAMA) opined that the Kingdom's economy can grow 4.4% in 2014, in line with IMF's forecast, due to growth expected in the private sector. Huge government investments are expected to drive the private sector. UAE inflation rose to 1.8% YoY in February (1.5% YoY in January), the highest since October 2010. According to Statistics Center of Abu Dhabi (SCAD), Abu Dhabi's GDP rose 4.8% to AED953.24bn (current prices) at the end of 2013, with growth in both oil and non-oil sectors. Dubai signed an agreement with Abu Dhabi and the UAE Central Bank to roll over USD20bn of debt for another five years. Qatar's new budget for FY 2014-15, its largest ever, would provide aid to projects of the Qatar National Strategy 2011-2016 and Qatar National Vision 2030. The budget is based on an oil price of USD65 per barrel and totals QAR225.7bn compared with last year's QAR218bn. The estimated surplus of QAR7.3bn would be used to support Qatar Central Bank's reserve and help Qatar Investment Authority explore investment opportunities in world markets. Bahrain's inflation rose to 3.7% YoY in February 2014 from 3.3% YoY in January on rising food and housing costs. Oman's inflation stood at 1.15% YoY in January.

The Al-Ahli Gulf Fund recorded a gain of +2.64% MTD and +11.68% YTD. The S&P GCC Composite Price Index on the NAV date was +2.76% MTD and +10.13% YTD. The Gulf Funds gain since inception stood at +103.01%. The NAV of the fund was KD 1.065064 on 31st March 2014.

The current GCC allocations remain stable with a selective allocation of Blue Chip stocks across the region.
